RANGERS WIN LEAGUE
CHAMPIONSHIP.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Edinburgh, April 15.
Rangers have gained the Championship of the Scottish Association League. Celtic, after holding the honour for four seasons, takes second place. At one time it was hoped that Kilmarnock, Greenock Morton, or Motherwell would imitate Dumbarton and give provincial football a new interest. The trio, however, did no more than faintly threaten,
and for the last few weeks the struggle narrowed down to the usual and monotonous duel between Rangers and Celtic. Rangers, though perhaps not to the same extent as Hearts and Clyde, suffered losses
through the demands of the Army;
but they at once started a recruiting campaign among neighbouring clubs, including Queen's Park, Dundee, Raith Rovers, and St. Mirren; and the result of this enterprising policy is that they find themselves possessed of the much coveted "Flag"
for the coming twelve months.

Though Motherwell drew with Rangers in the last game of the series, this did not give them the place in the table that they deserved.
Their recent appearances, against Rangers and Celtic entitled them to be reckoned the third best team in the field; but they have to be content with fifth place. Kilmarnock finished third, the result of their efforts in the autumn, efforts which, unfortunately, they could not maintain in the later months. Greenock Morton has the same aggregate as Kilmarnock, but drops down to fourth
through an inferior goal average.

THE MEN WHO FOUGHT IN 1914.

AN INDIAN GRIEVANCE.

"Fairplay" writes thus to the Pioneer

of Allahabad:

With reference to the issue of the Bronze Star for services rendered in 1914 on the Western front, may I, through the medium of your valuable paper, give vent to public feeling which is naturally injured at the exclusion of the "Old Contemptibles" and "Volunteers," who fought at other fronts ever since war was declared, from receiving this coveted distinction also. In all fairness the troops who fought in 1914 at any front should, I am sure, be awarded this Bronze Star, as it wasn't a question of choice where troops wished to be sent.

Every soldier who was sent out on active service in 1914 to any part of the world was from the non-conscript or volunteer lot, and it was on them that the Hun wreaked their vengeance and pent-up feelings, with the result that very few, indeed, now cherish their homes.

The Indian volunteers came forward with their maxim gun teams and artillery from all parts of India, and a good portion of these plucky lads saw a deal of service in East Africa in September, 1914, where their services were reckoned as indispensable to finally check the invasion of the Germans into that colony. Many of them now are the holders of distinctions won on the field.

Another body of deserving men are the Imperial Service Troops, from the various Native States of India, who were first in the field, and rendered excellent service. The Jind, Kapurthala and other Imperial Service Troops are only now returning home for a well-earned rest from East Africa.
Surely these gallant men have done as much and just valuable positions and salaries which could not be made up in the Army, as the majority of the volunteers went out as "privates" only.

No praise is too great for the Expeditionary Forces which set sail for "an unknown destination" in August and September, 1914, and it is up to the Imperial Government to see that her early fighters have not been deprived of the distinction (Bronze Star) awarded to their brother-fighters on the Western front.

CRICKETER NOVELIST'S D.S.O.

Major Hesketh Pritchard's achievement in winning the D.S.O. will gratify a host of friends in the literary and sporting world. The Major is a remarkable specimen of finely developed manhood, being considerably over six feet in height, broad-shouldered, and muscular.
He has been a great traveller, explorer, and hunter, as well as a novelist and a county cricketer.

His exploring expeditions took him to the wilds of Labrador and Patagonia, among many other lands. In first-class cricket he made a name as a fast bowler, and, besides playing much at Lord's, he took M.C.C. teams to Philadelphia and the West Indies. For a number of years he captained an eleven in annual matches against an eleven selected by his friend,
the late F. C. Selous.

K. and Hesketh Pritchard, joint authors of numerous books, furnish the only notable example of mother and son collaborating in fiction. Major Hesketh Pritchard was A.D.C. to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland when he married, ten years ago, the Earl of Verulam's daughter, Lady Elizabeth Gifford.

Both the Green Guardians are employing home porters, as there are no longer any paupers in the workhouse who are able to do any work.

THE GREAT BATTLE.

ALLIED PROGRESS ALONG THE LINE.

GROUND CAPTURED AND POSITIONS IMPROVED.

LONDON, June 7. A French communiqué states: North of Montdidier and west of Soissons we made several successful counter-attacks and took prisoners.

North of the Aisne we, by a night attack, captured the village of Lepout, west of Fontenoy.

South of the Aisne we improved our positions south-east of Ambliz.

Between the Ourcq and the Marne we continued a local operation.

In the region of Veuilly-la-Poterie we increased our progress and captured the village of Vinly, north of Clignan and also the woods east of the station of Veuilly-la-Poterie.

We also gained possession of the outskirts north of this village.

Further south American troops gained ground on the front of Torcy, Bellem and Boursoches.

West of Chateau Thierry a spirited attack gave us Hill 204.

Between the Marne and Rheims British troops regained a footing in the village of Bligny and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. We took 100 prisoners in these actions.

REFUGEES FROM BATTLE-FIELD.

120,000 PASS THROUGH PARIS.

PARIS, June 8. One hundred and twenty thousand refugees from the battle-field have passed through Paris in four days.

FORTY-FIVE ENEMY DIVISIONS ASSAULTING.

GERMANS FEELING WEIGHT OF ALLIED REINFORCEMENTS.

PARIS, June 2. The Havas correspondent on the French front, telegraphing on the evening of June 1st, says:—

The fighting is proceeding with unequalled bitterness, but the weight of our reinforcements is beginning to be heavily felt. The German advance between Rheims and Chateau Thierry has been held, while our resistance is beginning to be victorious between Soissons and the Marne.

The Germans are also beginning to throw in new Divisions, of which 15 had been identified up to May 30th, not including the reserves.

Valiantly aided by the British Divisions, we are now combatting the formidable assault of over 45 Divisions. It is no longer doubtful that Germany again seeks on this new battle-field the decision which has always escaped her.

DARING RAIDS BY BRITISH.

GERMAN TRENCHES CLEARED.

LONDON, June 8. Reuter's Correspondent at British Headquarters, telegraphing to-day, says:—

Our operation in the neighbourhood of Vieux Berquin was completely successful, and has given us some high ground and two farms, which have been converted into strong machine-gun posts. Our casualties were light although the enemy resisted with considerable obstinacy.

Our raid east of Tilloy, on the night of June 1st was a very daring enterprise. We penetrated more than a thousand yards and entirely cleared out 400 yards of German trenches, bombing all the dug-outs and blowing up a heavy trench-mortar, which had been troublesome. The prisoners estimate that an entire German company was wiped out.

3TH GOTHIA RAID ON PARIS.

MOST TERRIFIC BARRAGE EXPERIENCED.

PARIS, June 2. This morning's air-raid was the 37th Gothia raid on Paris. The barrage was one of the most violent yet put up.

It is reported that only one Gothia penetrated the defences. Four persons were seriously injured.

A huge abandoned Gothia was captured near Reventy-Pon-de-Calais, on May 28th. Some of the crew were taken prisoners later.

ENEMY PEACE TALK.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS AND PEACE.

ALLIED SOCIALISTS' MEMORANDUM SUPPRESSED UNTIL NOW.

AMSTERDAM, June 2. At a meeting of the German Socialist Party on May 31st, Herr Ebert said a copy of the Entente Socialists' Memorandum, which was cabled on February 24th, had just been received. Indirectly the attitude of the German Socialists to it was laid down in the Memorandum regarding the Stockholm Conference, which was unanimously approved by the last Party Congress. The German Socialists were always ready to participate in a conference with all the Socialist Parties and negotiate with them on the basis of the Stockholm Memorandum. The war aims of the Entente Socialists were largely in accord with the annexationist aims of their Governments.

GERMANS BOMB HOSPITALS AGAIN.

NURSES TAKE SHELTER UNDER TREES.

PARIS, June 3. German aeroplanes have been very active recently in bombing the rear, especially hospitals and rest camps. Five were killed and 10 wounded by a bomb on a camp at Villers Cotteret on May 27th.

Numerous aeroplanes returned in the evening. The first bombs fell on a hospital canteen. A nurse was buried in the ruins. A party of nurses and Territorials, belonging to the camp staff, was bombarded mercilessly till three in the morning.

The aircraft descended very low. Nurses took refuge in a corn-field and sought shelter under trees round which they moved continually, as the aircraft circled above.

Other aeroplanes arrived at day-break, but French aeroplanes soon arrived and dispersed the raiders, bringing down five.

EARLIER, TELEGRAMS.

ALLIES ATTACKING.

LONDON, June 8. Now that the force of the German offensive is spent, the Allies are taking their turn at attacking.

They gained successes in local operations yesterday all along the line, recapturing a village in which are useful positions for opposing the enemy's arrow wedge. The most important gain was the recapture of Hill 204, west of Chateau Thierry, dominating the town and river.

A height of 450 feet, this interposes an obstacle to the advance in the direction of La Ferté-sous-Jouarre, which is believed to be one of the initial goals of the German attack, and it will hamper enemy strategy aiming to secure a strong position on the Marne to cover the subsequent advance to Paris.

FRESH ENEMY SURPRISES POSSIBLE.

The Germans still hold the heights north of the Marne from Chateau Thierry to Dormans, but have apparently lost the important spur running along the river to Paris from Hill 204 to Chilly-sur-Marne.

The Americans conspicuously participated in the Hill 204 success, while the British distinguished themselves by capturing Bligny between the Marne and Rheims.

The great extent of front still leaves room for the manoeuvre of fresh surprises and the fact that the Germans are not fortifying themselves between the Aisne and the Marne indicates that they shortly contemplate a fresh rush.

With the Allies barring the roads to Amiens, Calais and Paris it is thought not impossible that Ludendorff will deliver a stroke where he believes he will find the Allies least prepared, such as in Lorraine.

FRENCH AND AMERICANS IMPROVE POSITIONS.

LONDON, June 8. A French communiqué states: Between the Ourcq and the Marne we successfully continued local operations.

French and American troops extended their gains north of Vailly and Chery and captured Veuilly-la-Poterie and Boursoches. They are appreciably improving their positions on the front from Torcy to Boursoches.

Between the Marne and Rheims the action against Bligny continued, resulting in the capture of the entire village. Two hundred prisoners were taken during the day, while thirteen German aeroplanes were brought down.

Twenty-seven tons of bombs were dropped in the regions of Roye, St. Quentin and Soissons with good results.

FRENCH CONTINUE PRESSURE.

LONDON, June 8. A French communiqué reports: There was rather great artillery activity on the front south of the Aisne, notably in the region of Faverolles.

We improved our positions south-east of Ambliz during the night.

We continued our pressure south of the Ourcq and made new progress, and carried out our lines as far as the western outskirts of Dammarie to the east of Chery and over a kilometre north of Veuilly-la-Poterie, taking 60 prisoners.

Further south the enemy twice violently attacked our positions on the Boursoches-Le Thillot front. The attacks were shattered with heavy losses.

The night was relatively calm elsewhere.

FRENCH LINE AT LOCRE IMPROVED.

LONDON, June 7. Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reports: The French improved their line in the neighbourhood of Locre by a successful local attack, taking a few prisoners.

We raised a post in the St. Bazele sector at day light, taking nine prisoners.

SUCCESSFUL RAID BY BRITISH.

LONDON, June 8. Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reports: We took a few prisoners on the night of the 7th inst. in a successful raid in the neighbourhood of Hallob.

Our patrols inflicted casualties in the St. Bazele.

Hostile artillery is active northward of Albert and south-eastward of Arras.

AERIAL ACTIVITIES.

LONDON, June 8. Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, reporting on aviation, says: We brought down 11 and drove down eight enemy machines, while our aircraft fire forced down another. One British machine was lost.

We dropped 28 tons of bombs at day-time on Thursday, and 11 tons at night-time on targets, including Valenciennes, Le Cateau, Bassigny and St. Quentin.

GERMAN REPORT.

LONDON, June 7. A wireless German official message says: We took 10 French prisoners during an attack on Kemmel.

We captured the line astride the Arras and south-eastward of Arras, taking 300 prisoners.

ENEMY'S PROBABLE TACTICS. A RELATED MESSAGE.

LONDON, June 7. Reuter's Correspondent at the French Headquarters, telegraphing on the morning of June 1, says:—

On the western front of his salient the enemy continues pressure over the great plateau west of the Crise valley and southward towards Neuilly St. Front, which was about six miles from the nearest sector of the enemy line at mid-day yesterday. On the Marne the enemy holds the river bank for a distance of three miles east of Chateaufort and German transport waggons can be seen on the roads from the heights on the southern bank. It is probable that the enemy does not desire to progress southward beyond the Marne. As soon as his flank is firmly protected by the river his whole effort will doubtless be directed in the direction of Fes-

NEARLY FIFTY ENEMY DIVISIONS ENGAGED.

The enemy continues to pour fresh troops into the struggle and the Germans have already engaged nearly fifty Divisions. Forty Divisions were ordered to participate in the offensive as originally planned on the Aisne and another five were engaged in the extension of

GERMAN SUBMARINES OFF AMERICAN COAST.

SEVERAL SHIPS SUNK.

LONDON, June 8. An American official message states that German submarines have sunk several ships off the American coast.

VETARZO BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD

The latest discovery of modern humans, last month, in all areas of the world, has been followed by a series of studies, including a study of the genetic structure of the human population, which has shown that the genetic structure of the human population is very similar to that of the chimpanzee population, suggesting that the two species share a common ancestor. This discovery has led to a new understanding of the human population, which is now being used to study the genetic structure of the human population. The study of the genetic structure of the human population is a very important field of research, and it is hoped that this study will lead to a better understanding of the human population.
